DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-2, 4-8 and 10-15 are pending in the present application.
2. Claims 1, 2, 4-8 and 10-13 have been amended; and new claims 14-15 have been added.

Drawings

3. The drawings were received on July 27, 2009. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 1-2, 4-6, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The specification provides evidence at page 43 lines 17-27, that the "program search system" is not limited to hardware elements. If all elements would have been reasonably interpreted in light of the disclosure by one of ordinary skill as software alone, the claim is directed to software per se and is non-statutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claims 1-6, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted elements are: regarding independent claim 1, the claim omits a search operation and display or transmission of the search results to the end user. Claims 2-6, 14 and 15 are rejected based on dependency.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 1—2, 4-8 and 10-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kanemitsu et al. US Patent 6,928,262 B1.

Regarding claim 1, Kanemitsu teaches a program search system [note: "A broadcast receiving device which clearly indicates supplemental information transmitted along with broadcast content, and which facilitates program search" abstract] comprising:

a keyword registration unit configured to register a keyword for showing the user's preference in broadcast programs [note: column 3 line 63 through column 4 line 11 keyword mode switching means provides ability to obtain registered keywords for topic information search registered keywords are stored as keywords in keyword storing means; Figures 25-25; col. 3 lines 56-57];

a communication unit configured to receive broadcast content information including the titles of said broadcast programs that will be broadcasted by one or more broadcasting stations [note: Figure 1 (17) input device; and processor means column 2 lines 59-67]; and a detector configured to detect an appearance frequency of said keyword by said broadcast programs, in the broadcast content information received by said communication unit, said detector configured to generate a ranking of said broadcast programs in descending order of a higher appearance frequency of said keyword [note: Figure 1 310 EIT analyzer column 8 line 62 through column 9 line 19 music is detected through the content descriptor 101; also note column 10 lines 18-49 selection frequency storing unit for storing a selection frequency related to each topic; selector frequency assigned with ranking see column 10 lines 10-37].

10. Regarding claim 2, "said detector is configured to specify a broadcast program according to the appearance frequency of said keywords" [see: column 10 lines 18-49 selection frequency storing unit for storing a selection frequency related to each topic].

11. Regarding claim 4, "a search condition setting unit configured to set ... configured to transmit request information ..." [note: column 3 lines 1-9 search processing means; column 13 lines 25-39].

12. Regarding claim 5, "said communication unit is configured to transmit request information ... storage device that stores broadcast content information ..." [note: column 2 lines 42-44 memory means stores program; Figure 1 (9) memory device; column 10 lines 19-50].

13. Regarding claim 6, "said communication unit configured to receive electronic program listings formed by broadcast content information ..." [note: column 11 lines 5-20].

14. The limitations of claims 10 and 12 parallel system claim 1; therefore they are rejected under the same rationale.

15. Regarding claim 7, Kanemitsu teaches the following limitations: "a storage medium configured to store broadcast information" see Figure 1 (9) memory device; "a receiver configured to receive search condition information" note Figure 1 917) and processor means column 2 lines 46-67; "search means for searching" note column 3 lines 1-9; "a detector configured to detect an appearance frequency" see column 8 line 62 through column 9 line 19 music is detected through the content descriptor 101; also note column 10 lines 18-49 selection frequency storing unit for storing a selection frequency related to each topic ; and "a transmitter configured to transmit information" column 3 lines 10-17.

16. Regarding claim 8, said detector is configured to generate information to specify a broadcast program, according to the appearance frequency [see: column 10 lines 19-50].

17. The limitations of claims 10 and 12 parallel system claim 1; therefore they are rejected under the same rationale.

18. The limitations of claims 11 and 13 parallel system claim 7; therefore they are rejected under the same rationale.

19. Regarding claims 14 and 15, a display unit ... [note: column 8 lines 35-61 display priority associated with ranking may be defined by the end user; Figure 22 note "display" flow chart step (s16)].

Response to Arguments

20. Applicant's arguments filed July 27, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In the response Applicant argued Kanemitsu does not teach ranking of search results or counting the appearance frequency of the keyword. In response to Applicant's argument the Examiner respectfully maintains the rejection. Note Kanemitsu teaches ranking search results associated with a specific frequency at column 10 lines 10-37. Kanemitsu teaches the end user may define or configure display priority degrees for topic information ranking see column 8 lines 35-61. Also, note Figure 21 "priority ranking" and Figure 22 flowchart step (214) and column 11 lines 28-32.

Conclusion

21. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
